Advisory Opinions of the International Court of Justice

This book provides a complete guide to the vital Advisory jurisdiction of the ICJ which is available to the UN General Assembly, Security Council and UN Specialised Agencies. Subjects such as Treaty interpretation, privileges and immunities, legality of nuclear weapons, the legality of the "Wall" built by Israel in respect of the Occupied Territories have featured in the ICJ's Advisory Opinions. The author explains why the Advisory Jurisdiction is a vital and important means for the continuous clarification and development of Public International Law. The book analyses the key features of an Advisory Opinion, the process and procedure for invoking the ICJ's jurisdiction, as well as the practice of the Court with reference to its leading Advisory Opinions. The reader will find a complete schedule of all requests and answers delivered by the ICJ and its predecessor the PCIJ since 1922, as well as the relevant Rules and Practice Directions of the ICJ.

"The author..[has] achieved the considerable feat of producing a book which manages to avoid the twin perils of technicality and over-simplification." Sir Christopher Greenwood, GBE, CMG, QC (Judge, International Court of Justice, 2009-2018)

Conflicts of Interest in International Arbitration: An Overview

The growth of International Arbitration has given rise to many issues, including an increasing concern that Arbitrators must be seen to be and actually be independent and impartial. This book is aimed at arbitrators and Counsel who need to identify and unravel the different institutional rules that might apply in their case. The book also provides an invaluable summary of the approach adopted by the Courts in England and Wales, France and Switzerland to arbitrator challenges.

'This work has done a service to practitioners and all who want to learn about this subject by collecting much of the important international material in a single volume.' From the Foreword by Sir Bernard Rix, Former UK Court of Appeal Judge

"...very helpful for a single practitioner work, such as this, to gather together the most important rules, guidelines and so-called "soft law" on the subject, to set out the key principles applicable in each type of arbitration, and to provide illustrative cases from a number of different jurisdictions and legal traditions.' From the review in New Law Journal by David Foster, Head of O'Melvery's International Dispute and Arbitration Practice Group
