Practice Overview

David Casement KC FCIArb is a senior barrister with over thirty years' experience in chancery and commercial arbitration and litigation. He is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and had acted as an arbitrator in many domestic and international arbitrations over the decades. International arbitration and dispute resolution more generally are now the primary focus of David's practice.

David's experience in resolving disputes includes domestic and international arbitrations, regulatory proceedings and disciplinary proceedings. David was also appointed as a Part-time Judge (Recorder) in 2005, a Queen's Counsel (now King's Counsel) in 2008 and a Deputy High Court Judge in 2013. David is a member of the Bar of England and Wales, the Bar of Ireland and the Bar of Northern Ireland.

His experience includes company, LLP and partnership disputes advising and representing companies, directors, shareholders, members and partners. David has covered the full range of commercial disputes such as banking, finance and securities and professional negligence. He also specialised in all aspects of insolvency disputes and has acted for office-holders and third parties in corporate and personal insolvency disputes. David also acted for claimants and defendants in commercial fraud disputes and asset tracing across multiple jurisdictions including tracing illegally acquired assets.
