✉ cquigley@serlecourt.co.uk ☎ +44 (0)20 7242 6105

Conor Quigley KC specialises in European Union, state aid and UK Subsidy Control law.

He has appeared in many EU Law cases in the UK in the High Court, Court of Appeal, House of Lords and Supreme Court, and in the European Union General Court and Court of Justice. Clients have included UK and Irish Governments, the European Commission, public and private companies, private individuals and UK public authorities.

In recent years, his practice has increasingly specialised in two areas: (i) acting as an expert witness on EU State aid law in international arbitrations, particularly ICSID arbitrations; (ii) expert specialization on the interface of corporate taxation and State aid international investment arbitrations. In 2022, he was appointed a Visiting Professor in Practice at the London School of Economics.

Conor has been recommended in all the main directories as a leading silk in EU, competition and public procurement law. Described as “a leading figure” and “a guru” in his areas of expertise.

Conor has very broad expertise from advising in the following areas:

- EC, UK & Irish Competition Law: Airlines, air transport, banking and insurance, diamond distribution, forestry, motor vehicle distribution, oil and gas, rail transport, shipping, wine and beer, newspapers, computer software, retailing, franchising, petrol stations, intellectual property rights, racecourses and bookmakers, pharmaceuticals, waste recycling, renewable energy, electricity, payment systems.

Expertise

Competition Law

Conor is widely regarded as the leading expert at the Bar on EU State aid law (now also including the EU Foreign Subsidies Regulation) and is the author of the highly acclaimed European State Aid Law and Policy (4th edition, 2022, Hart Publishing and Bloomsbury Professional). He also advises widely on the UK Subsidy Control Act.

Conor currently advises major international and multinational companies, as well as governmental and municipal authorities, on matters including subsidies to airlines and airports, bank restructuring following the credit crisis, and urban transport, internet communications and taxation. He has provided expert opinions in relation to several major international arbitrations, both at the arbitration and recognition / enforcement stages, on the application of state aid rules in commercial disputes between various EU member states and investors pursuant to international and/or commercial obligations.

Conor has appeared in proceedings before the European Courts, the House of Lords, Supreme Court, Court of Appeal and High Court, as well as the European Commission. He is a Research Fellow at the University of Oxford's Institute of European and Comparative Law and a Visiting Professor in Practice at the London School of Economics. He also edited and co-authored "Hong Kong Competition Law" (Hart / Bloomsbury, 2016).
